Smart Style Summer SuitsAt $ 9.90

Better step lively. You know the high character of the garments we sell exclusively. Among the lot are some mighty fine blue serge. And the earliest comers will have a chance at some natty Norfolk styles as well as more conservative models.

Then we have added, from our regular stock, many suits of different materials, which have been marked at $20 to $25. These also include some Norfolk styles, but the majority are models of the latest and most popular design.

And Don't Overlook These Shoes
"Steadfast" and "Korrek Shape" Shoes at REDUCED PRICES

Any man who has ever worn a pair of "Steadfast" Bench-made or Burt & Packard's "Korrek Shape" Shoes will instantly realize what it means when we say that the price of "Steadfast" low shoes has been reduced to $4.85 and that of "Korrek Shape" to $3.85. Prior to this sale, $6 to $7 was the price of "Steadfast" Shoes; $4.50 and $5 the price of "Korrek Shape." It is, indeed, a rare opportunity for men who wear nothing but the best shoes to get them during this sale at a substantial reduction.

THESE PRICES ON LOW SHOES ONLY*WAS ENVOY KIDDING ABOUT "SWISS NAVY?"

Switzerland Accepted Invitation to Naval Pageant as "Formality."
 Bryan "Not Informed."

Secretary of State Bryan professed ignorance yesterday of the action of Pleasant A. Storval, the Minister of the United States to Switzerland, in extending an invitation to that country to participate in the naval pageant at the Panama Exposition. Mr. Bryan seemed to be somewhat amused at the suggestion of such an invitation to Switzerland, and indicated that the matter had never been called to his attention.

In other reliable quarters here, however, it was asserted that an invitation of this character was presented by the American Minister and that the Swiss foreign office, believing that the United States diplomat must certainly have known that Switzerland had no navy, accepted with the intention of sending a representative.

The presumption on the part of the Swiss officials was that there must certainly be some formalities in the celebration in which Switzerland could participate without any navy.

Mr. Storval is one of the Wilson administration's new diplomats. He hails from Georgia.

SUFFERS TO USE ARMY TENTS.

The suffragists belonging to the Congressional Union of Washington have had their militant spirit aroused, and will use army tents used for that purpose, and, with alluring banners and posters, they will try to secure the feminine vote and sign them up for "the cause."

Men are safe, however, as only women can become members of the Congressional Union, though numbers of men contribute to the work on their behalf.

HENNESSY FOR N. Y. GOVERNOR?

Great Preber and Newspaper Man
 Looks Up as Moose Candidate.

Oyster Bay, July 16.—John A. Hennessy looks up as the Bull Moose candidate for governor. It became known today that Hennessy had been at Sagamore Hill on Tuesday for a conference with Col. Roosevelt. Roosevelt declined tonight to discuss Hennessy's chances of getting the nomination.

The ex-President is known to have a keen regard for Hennessy, both for the work he did in the New York majority campaign last fall, when he stumped diligently and effectively for the fusion ticket, and for his successful efforts to expose State highway graft.

Not all of the Progressive cabinet, however, favors Hennessy, and it may also be said that the opinion is in no wise determined that Hennessy must be the man. But right now the Suizer graft investigator appears to be stronger in the running than any other independent. Roosevelt wants Suizer disposed of so he will not be a pest in the Progressive primaries.

PANAMA COMMISSIONER DYING.

Panama, July 16.—David Marks, American member of the Panama Canal Commission, is not expected to recover from an attack of cerebral hemorrhage and paralysis of the right side with which he has been stricken. He became unconscious and was taken to a hospital, where the physicians found his condition dangerous. The sitting of the commission has been suspended.

PROBING REEF COST.

Housekeepers have heaved sighs of relief since the comforting news reached them that the Department of Agriculture's investigation has been quickened by the recent fear of protests from women throughout the country on the increased cost of beef. Secretary Houston at first refused to make any statement prior to the findings of the committee, and it was not until the demands for one came pouring in that the department that was announced that an investigation had been under way for six months.

"FURIES" HORSEWHIP SCOTLAND'S SECRETARY OF STATE

HON. THOMAS McKINNON WOOD

London, July 16.—Armed with heavy horsewhips, two militant suffragettes made a violent attack on the Right of State for Scotland. They were later jailed after a stiff fight with the police. The women threatened a hunger strike unless they are released in short order.

CLAFIN DEBT $40,000,000.

New York, July 16.—Figures obtained from authoritative sources today show that the liabilities of the H. B. Clafin Company are at least $40,000,000 and that they may reach $60,000,000. On the day the failure was announced the liabilities were placed at $4,000,000, largely due to contingent charges. Later developments proved these figures to be near correct. The liabilities are made up as follows: Total indebtedness of the retail stores, $20,000,000; in addition to the Clafin notes, which amount to $20,000,000. The indebtedness of the H. B. Clafin Company on merchandise is placed at $4,000,000, and there is $20,000,000 of deposits on what the attorney for one of these depositors asserts John Clafin accepted in his banking business.

CARBAJAL SAYS HE'LL RETIRE

While the United States has not yet taken up the matter of recognition of the government which the constitutionally elected Carranza has set up in Mexico City, it is fully appreciated by both parties that on the conduct of the constitutionalists from this moment forward depends whether or not the Carranza government will be recognized and supported by Washington.

The present desideratum of Washington is that Carranza and Carranza, through their representatives, agree on some orderly procedure for the transfer of power and the actual occupation of Mexico City by the constitutionalists. The United States has made known to the constitutionalists that it expects Carranza to enter an arrangement with the new Mexican president. While Washington looks to Carranza to make good an unconditional surrender of Mexico City, at the same time it has signified to Carranza that it will expect him to make no undue severity or harshness in his demands on Carranza.

To Issue Proclamation.
 While the constitutionalists are determined that nothing shall be permitted to interfere with their complete possession of Mexico City and the reins of government under military procedure, it is stated by their representatives that they are willing to give due consideration to the certain rights of the people of the city. It is now thought likely that Carranza, prior to his occupying Mexico City, will issue a proclamation setting forth his views as to what measure of amnesty is to be granted to political offenders, what measure of protection may be expected by owners, and particularly, what the new government purposes to do regarding the clergy and their vast properties.

These three questions will be the chief issues to be discussed by the representatives of Carranza and Carranza. Any action in Mexico City which would make necessary the sending of armed forces to the capital by the United States in the interests of Carranza would be fatal, not only to the prospect of Carranza enjoying the support of Washington, but even to the chance of his being permitted to rule in Mexico. He has been reminded by Washington that the shadow of intervention is not yet dispelled.

WHOLESALE EXECUTIONS PLANNED.

The constitutionalists, however, are insisting that it is none of the business of the United States to interfere with the government deals with the Mexicans under its control. Legislation will be entirely by military decree, and the new government, it is asserted, will perform any act which seems necessary or advisable regardless of the Mexican constitution or law. There is no effort to conceal the intention of the constitutionalists to eliminate all its supposed enemies with dispatch, and it is declared that there will be executions in the case of all believed to be enemies to the new government.

FEAR VILLA PLANS TO WAR AGAINST CARRANZA

Formal announcement to the United States of the resignation of Huerta and the succession of Carranza as provisional president, was made by the State Department yesterday by Ambassador Riano, the Spanish envoy who represents Mexico in Washington.

Apprehension is growing in administration circles that Villa will declare an independent Mexican republic in the north and that fighting will be resumed with renewed bitterness. The constitutionalist junta, however, is expecting word from Gen. Carranza informing it of his position.

The State Department, through George Carothers, at Salt Lake, and Charles Douglas, legal adviser for the constitutionalist agency in Washington, has sought to have Carranza make clear what will be his course now that Huerta has abdicated. Villa's attitude toward the new shaping of conditions continues to give the Carranza representatives here more genuine worry than anything Carranza may do. The latter, they say, is merely a temporary problem of slight importance, but they believe that Villa is the black cloud on the horizon that, possibly, portends a new revolution in Mexico.

LET THE REPUBLICANS TALK ON MEXICO NOW, SAYS LIND

Duluth, Minn., July 16.—"Events and results will show for the administration and for the nation," said John Lind today when asked what he thought of Huerta's resignation. "I am not in a position to talk. Let the Republican leaders in Washington who have expressed the cause of Huerta do the talking. Their continued lamentations over the passage of Huerta's regime of privilege, loot and murder will not mislead the people."

NAVY COURT FINDS REPORTER'S
"LEY DE FUGA" STORY FALSE

Admiral Badger reported to the Navy Department yesterday that the court of inquiry which had been investigating published allegations that Ensign Richardson of the Arkansas battalion, had applied the "ley de fuga," ruthlessly shooting Mexican prisoners taken in the capture of Vera Cruz, had completed its labors and found the charges unsubstantiated. The admiral is forwarding a record of the court's proceedings by mail.

The court of inquiry was ordered as the result of an article published in certain newspapers in the United States, for which Fred L. Booth, of the News Enterprise Association, admitted responsibility. When he was ordered deported for having written false stories regarding the conduct of the American forces, he named Ensign Richardson as the source of his authority for the statements he made. Secretary Daniels thereupon asked the War Department to suspend the deportation order until an investigation could be made.

WIRES HE IS FREE AFTER BEING TORTURED AS SPY

Waukegan, Wis., July 16.—A telegram received today from Mexico City from Charles Nevis, of this city, says he is free after having been sentenced to death by Huerta. His wire says: "Given death penalty, imprisoned forty-one days, starved and tortured. Accused of being Villa spy. Arrested with Vice Consul Sullivan under name of Ridley. Free at last, but exhausted from treatment given me by Mexican government."

IRISH IN U. S. PLEDGE
$100,000 FOR HOME RULE

After League Meeting in New York
 John Redmond Is Cabled that $10,000 Is on Way.

Special to The Washington Herald.
 New York, July 16.—One hundred thousand dollars was pledged toward the Irish volunteer movement at a meeting of the national directors of the United Irish League of America at the Hotel Knickerbocker today. A cable was at once forwarded to John E. Redmond, notifying him of the subscription, and that $10,000 of the money was already on the way. Michael J. Ryan, city solicitor of Philadelphia, who is president of the league, notified Mr. Redmond that he can have all the money he wants to carry on the home rule work.

Today's meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic of the national directors that has ever been held. Mr. Ryan said, and tremendous interest was taken in the national volunteer movement, which has been organized by Redmond to meet the Ulster army. Philadelphia was selected as the place of meeting for the next national convention of the league, the date of which will be fixed by Redmond, who will journey from Ireland to attend it.

President Ryan pledged $5,000 for Philadelphia, and handed in $2,000 of it at once. Humphrey O'Sullivan, of Lowell, pledged another $5,000 for Massachusetts, of which T. B. Fitzpatrick handed in his personal check for $1,000.

FINISHING TOUCHES ARE PUT ON CLAYTON BILL

Senate Committee Finally Decides on
 Form of Legislation Exemplifying
 Labor from Prosecution.

The Senate Committee on Judiciary has finally come to a conclusion as to the form of legislation it will report exemplifying labor organizations and other favored citizens from the operation of the anti-trust laws. Section 1 of the Clayton bill covers the vital part of the subject. As perfected finally by the committee yesterday it reads:

"Section 7. That nothing contained in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of labor, agricultural or horticultural organizations, instituted for the purpose of mutual help, and not having capital stock or conducted for profit, or to forbid or restrain individual members of such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade under the anti-trust laws."

While the debate proceeded leisurely in the Senate on the trade commission bill yesterday, the Judiciary Committee was at work effectively on the Clayton bill. One of the things agreed to yesterday was that the statute of limitations, which had been extended in the bill from three to six years, shall not apply to offenses committed before the approval of the pending Clayton bill.

The committee had hoped to conclude the bill yesterday or today, but the absence of the Republicans may delay the report. The first eight sections of the measure were agreed to at the morning session of the committee. After adjournment last night the leaders said that the bill was "half finished."

Senator Burton, of Ohio, and Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, are leading a filibuster against the rivers and harbors bill that bids fair to defeat the bill or lead to a modification of some of the appropriations in it. One Senator predicted yesterday that if the bill got through the Senate its aggregate of appropriations would be cut down from $5 to $6 per cent. Senator Burton believes the bill is utterly bad and ought to be beaten, and he has confidence that it will fail. He said yesterday that he did not see how it was possible for the Senate to be made to amend a Senator who has a local project tied up in the bill would probably insist on amputating the other fellow's item but allow his own to remain.

When the bill was laid before the Senate yesterday Senator Burton took the floor again and leisurely talked without much physical effort, and apparently without mental fatigue, for some time. No progress was made with the bill. The filibuster is complete. There is much reserve strength for the filibuster. Motions and demands for quorum seem to spring from the cloak rooms on the Republican side and from most unexpected sources whenever Senator Burton shows signs of being tired. The Senator has indicated that he may not be able to conclude his remarks before the adjournment of the session.
